

This weekend we announced the roll out of our parish app. Honestly, for Fr. Curtis and myself it was a stretch to be so explicit and direct about proclaiming to the parish the value of social media to proclaim the faith, especially in the church. For those of you at Mass this Sunday, you know that I made an open invitation to pull out your smartphones and download the parish app. The results? I was blown away. The new parish app was downloaded 391 times this weekend. And over the past seven days 11,100 pages were viewed through the app.

If you would like to hear my homily message from this weekend, you can find it on the new parish app.
